

Interoperability Montana

This map depicts projected communications sites in the Interoperability Montana project and is published to provide Consortia with a projection of when a communications site will be constructed based on the best information available on the publication date.

This projection is based on the following presumptions:

- * The site agreement requirements for the communications site will be completed by the date projected for construction.
- * The frequencies programmed will meet field requirements without change as of the date projected for construction.
- * The communications sites depicted will not require additional equipment or construction costs due to unforeseen field conditions.
- * The cost of projected communications site infrastructure equipment will not increase.
- * The microwave pathway presentation is subject to change based on site agreement, frequency modulation, and/or price changes.

0 12.5 25 50 Miles

NORTHROP GRUMMAN